

Crocheted butterflies

On the web I found these cute butterflies. Normally I only post my own recipes - but I couldn't stand for these. They have to go up to the summer house and decorate - they fit in perfectly there.....

Below you can see more about where I found the cute pattern and a link to the page.

The pattern is found here:

<http://noerkehjoernet.blogspot.dk/2012/05/hklede-sommerfugle-diy.html>

However, I have changed the model a bit. I haven't crocheted air meshes on the body like she does - I've just tied string around the body and finished with a knot. Cut off so that there are feelers.....I don't think the air masks turned out so nicely.

The butterfly must be crocheted "in the round" and if you follow the recipe it pretty much gives itself. It is then folded twice and a butterfly appears. Then tie yarn around as a body.

Good pleasure.